

Explore the world of The 9th Age

Our Background Team is developing a brand new fantasy world, with 16 main playable factions and dozens of locations, units and characters, using classic and new fantasy themes to create a rich background lore.

On our online community site you can find the basic info you need to fall in love with one (...or more) of our factions, along with hundreds of lore pieces written by characters from an in-world perspective. Look at the world of the 9th Age from the point of view of its inhabitants!

Muster your armies and wage war with your friends

Once you have prepared your forces, you can start playing with your friends.

T9A offers a series of games; from small scenario skirmish games, to our Quick Play system Essence of War, to our full size ranks & flanks blockbuster, T9A: Fantasy Battles. The game is played on a global level with thousands of fellow wargamers and tournaments all over the world.

Join our community to share your army lists, ask for advice, follow the news on new Legendary Army Books and more, and leave your feedback on everything T9A!

Collect!

For many, collecting miniatures is the first step of the 9th Age hobby. Choose one of our factions and explore the wild world of fantasy miniatures—the T9A Miniatures Libraries provide dozens of suggestions you can use for every unit in the game, all in the intended 25–32mm scale. There's no limit to your possibilities, we're neutral when it comes to models: whatever miniature producer or material you want to use, you can, from plastic kits to old school metal, and of course you can produce and 3D print your miniatures too!

The next step is of course painting your models. In our Gallery you can find plenty of examples of every unit painted by members of our community, not to mention what you can find on T9A social media.

Join our community to share your talents, or ask veteran painters for advice!
